

MEMBERS' FORUM IMPORTANT FEATURE OF NEW ORGANIZATION

Democratic Form of Government Will Also Be Prominent

DUTY IS TO LEAD COMMUNITY

One of the fundamentals of the re-organization which will follow immediately the expansion of the Charleroi Chamber of Commerce is the democratic form of its government.

Answering the question of "who is going to run the chamber?" it was said by the executive committee today that the members are going to run it.

In the modern Chamber of Commerce, it was pointed out, every member is on an equal footing. Each pays the same dues, each has one vote only, each has the right to nominate for office, each has as loud a voice as any other in the making of the program of work and each will be called upon to exercise all these rights.

The election of the new directors and officers will take place at once. The election machinery is of the simplest character. Each member will be provided with a ballot bearing the name of every member so arranged that he may vote for whom he chooses. The men elected to the board of directors will be the ones receiving the largest number of votes, cast secretly and uninfluenced by any other consideration than merit.

An important feature of the Chamber of Commerce will be the members' forum. This will be the medium of communication between the officers and directors and the membership. It will hold luncheons and meetings frequently, bringing together the membership to invite the presentation and discussion of new projects. It will check up the progress of the committees. It will bring speakers and authorities to the chamber to assist the community in the solution of its problems. It will be the dynamo which will give motion and action to the chamber as an organization.

The members' forum is so organized and conducted that it reaches the individual members and is thoroughly alive and representative of the membership as a whole. It is needless to say that the members' forum is made up of all of the progressive and ready workers in the chamber.

The whole purpose of the Chamber of Commerce, first and last, it was said with emphasis by members of the executive committee, is to bring together the responsible and capable men and women of the community and lead them to think and work for the good of the community. Through frequent social meetings and in committee associations the acquaintance of each individual member is broadened, friendships are established and there grows up a confidence and optimism which are the intangible but compelling forces which carry a community forward.

CHILDREN TAKEN TO HOME AT ARDEN

Health Officer W. M. Darby on Friday afternoon took two of the Gilmer children, Thomas, aged 10 and Margaret, aged three, to the Children's Home at Arden. Three other of the children, Anna, aged 14, is at the home of Mr. Darby; Agnes, aged eight, is at the home of W. W. Hawkins of Fredericktown, and Esther, aged five, is at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Hudson here in Charleroi. It is the opinion of the authorities that little trouble will be found in placing the children taken to the Children's Home at a place already being in prospect for the little girl.

Authorities at Washington investigating Thomas Gilmer, now in jail on a charge of cruelty to his children, are of the opinion that the man is mentally deranged, and while not of a vicious nature, yet his condition is such that it is believed he should be sent to some institution for treatment.

Reminders of the Partisan Political Days of the Past

Reminders of the strongly partisan political days of many years ago, in the form of "Salt River" tickets, are in the possession of George W. Risbeck, which he obtained when he was a resident of Brownsville.

The first of these tickets was issued in 1884, by the "unaffiliated" of "Redstone Old Fort" when it had been definitely determined that Grover Cleveland had been elected President over James G. Blaine. It was the first time in 24 years that the Democrats had an opportunity to give vent to their enthusiasm, and they got back at their Republican opponents for the defeats of the many previous years, when Democracy was assigned to make the mythical trip to Salt River. According to the ticket the "old hulk" Republicanism was to leave the Brownsville wharf at 6:30 p. m., any old time, with a full complement of officers, in which the names of Jas. Johnson, Sam Ruble, C. L. Snowden, Jack Kisinger, Fred Chalfant, Jim Bowman and other well known Republicans appeared as acting in some minor capacity. A bill of fare was also set forth in which "roast coon" and "dead duck" were very conspicuous, as well as cooked "goose" with "R. R. R." dressing.

The ticket of 1892, when Cleveland, for a third time candidate for President, defeated Benjamin Harrison for the Presidency was more elaborate than the one of eight years previous. The name of the boat for that trip was the "Nevercombak" in which Brownsville "High Tariffites" were to embark for the land of "Utter Oblivion and Darkness." One feature of this ticket was statement that

"passengers who have tears with them and desire to shed the same will be supplied with basins manufactured from Carnegie tin," the tin plate question being quite an issue that year, in which the Republican affirmed and the Democrats denied that it could be manufactured in the United States with success and profit. (Later the Republicans demonstrated they were right.)

Another statement was that "Kill-enquik" whiskey would be furnished free, this possibly being the forerunner of the "hootch" of the present day. Wm. Smothers was named as Captain of the 1892 craft, with John T. Morgan, Sr., as pilot, Isaac Smothers as clerk, George W. Joliffe the lumber man, as second clerk, and J. R. Saul as "mud" clerk. Among the "flunkies" were Sam Graham, C. L. Snowden, Jack Kisinger, Clark Baldwin, Fred Chalfant and Vint Winans, while W. A. Edmiston, Dr. Derth, Dr. Shoemaker, Fletcher Chalfant, Ward Bulger and a number of others are mentioned as deckhands. Other names well known to Brownsville people are also mentioned as members of the crew, while the "bill of fare" was in keeping with the occasion.

Both tickets are full of reminders which would be in interest to Brownsville people, and older residents of that town would be able to recall many of the names which were familiar in the late '80's and early '90's. "Salt River" tickets are apparently a thing of the past, but they furnished a great deal of amusement and sometimes soreness, when political feeling was more acute than it is today.

BACCALAUREATE SUNDAY EVENING

The baccalaureate exercises for the mid-winter graduating class of the Charleroi High school will be held in the High school auditorium, Sunday evening, January 23. Rev. E. H. Greenlee, of the Methodist Episcopal church, will deliver the sermon, his topic being "A Vital Realization." The invocation will be pronounced by Rev. W. G. Woodrow, the scripture lesson, old testament, will be read by Rev. F. C. Lake, from the new testament by Rev. R. J. Shields, and the prayer by the Rev. John R. Burson. The benediction will be pronounced by Rev. J. Walter Bressler. Music will be furnished by the High school orchestra and the High School chorus, with Prof. I. T. Daniel as director, and Miss Harriett Underwood as accompanist.

RESIDUARY PORTION OF THE LILLEY WILL SET ASIDE BY COURT

"Tennessee considers halting Sunday trains," reads a news line. Are they to be flagged when they cross the Stat line and made to stop in their tracks 24 hours?

Misses Hazell Lambert, Mattie Kelly and Hazel Harford attended the Young People's meeting in Homestead on Thursday evening.

WIN FROM DONORA BY A CLOSE SCORE

With the scalps of Canonsburg, Duquesne and New Brighton dangling from their belts, Charleroi high school ball tossers invaded Donora last evening and, after a most weird exhibition, added another victim to their already attractive collection. The team from our neighboring town has for many seasons, proved a hard nut for the local boys to crack, winning a majority of their games by a very close score. Last evening's exhibition was marked by a spirit which boded ill for the peaceful conduct of the game, from the very start of play. Personal fouls were numerous and Referee Hurst did not hesitate to assert his prerogative. "Peck" Webster erred the limited number of times, and automatically removed himself from the game. Frank Wagner and Ruben of Donora, were also guilty.

In connection with this matter, it might be said that there seems to be a tendency on the part of a few of the Charleroi players to resort to trickeries which are banned in the category of basket ball plays. This should be stopped. Patrons of the game do not countenance this spirit of roughness. But that is not all. The use of such tactics cannot fail to militate against the team's success, in more ways than one. Basket ball in itself, is an edifying sport, when it is played as it should be. When indulged in otherwise, bad feeling is engendered and the game loses popularity. Continued on page 2.

One of the Most Important Decisions Ever Handed Down in County

ESTATE GIVEN TO HEIRS AT LAW

In an important opinion handed down by Judge Haldain B. Hughes, Judge of the Orphans' Court of Washington, the residuary provisions of the will of Thomas E. Lilley have been adjudged to be illegal and void. The decision is regarded as one of the most important ever made in the courts of Washington county involving several million dollars. The opinion covers 97 typewritten pages and is supported by citations to scores of authorities.

Thomas E. Lilley, a resident of East Pike Run township, died January 5, 1920, possessed of a vast estate, consisting of realty and personality which was subsequently appraised at $2,404,416.41. He was not survived by wife or issue.

In his will, after making certain comparatively small personal bequests, he directs that his residuary estate, which comprises more than 96 per cent of his assets, and property, be held, invested and allowed to accumulate in the hands of his executors and their successors, in office for a period of 99 years following his death, at the end of which time the said residuary estate, together with its accumulations, was to be divided between the heirs of his nephews, Thomas Elliott and Jacob Elliott, whom he made executors of his will. If these directions were upheld and carried on their residuary estate, at the end of the 99-year period, would have assumed the gigantic proportions of possibly $100,000,000.

The court determines and adjudicates such provisions of the will to be null and void and holds that the decedent's heirs at law and next of kin, consisting of his sister, Mrs. Jane Elliott, and his nephews, Charles E. Lilley and Walter T. Lilley, are entitled to the realty and personality of which the said residuary portion of the estate is composed. Mrs. Jane Elliott is the mother of Thomas and Jacob Elliott, named as executors of the will.

In handing down the decision the court refuses to grant the executors permission to execute a royalty agreement with the Lilley Coal and Coke company for mining the Ross block of coal of about 2,000 acres.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wellott, who were in Charleroi with the American City Bureau campaign for the new Chamber of Commerce, left last will spend a day with relatives. They will spend away with relatives. They expect to leave Sunday for Fort Jervis, N. Y., where Mr. Wellott will be engaged in organization work.

TO ASK DIVISION OF MOTOR LICENSE FEE

A bill designed to assist municipalities in constructing and maintaining highways by providing that all automobile taxes collected by the state shall be divided on a 50 per cent basis, will be introduced in the Legislature by Representative William I. Goss of the Fifth Allegheny county district next week.

The bill, of state-wide importance, will be of special importance to every municipality in the commonwealth, many of which in the past have been advocating such a measure because of the increased cost of upkeep of streets caused by motor traffic. The bill will provide for the division of the fees on a 50-50 basis between the state and the municipalities from which such funds are collected.

It is specifically provided that the money thus paid into the city, borough or township treasury shall be applied to the construction, repair and maintenance of streets, alleys and highways in the municipality receiving the funds.

The question of equitable division of the automobile fees for road uses has been the subject of much discussion and it is understood that various representatives had been considering the introduction of such a bill. The bill is believed to be in accord with the principles of decentralization that were received with enthusiasm by the majority of state executives at the governors' conference held in Harrisburg in December. Gov. Sproul approved the principle at that time.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT In Memory of Sir Knight Companion H. L. EWALD

"So let him sleep that dreamless sleep, our sorrows clustering round his head:

Be comforted, ye loved who weep, he lives with God—he is not dead." Once again Death hath summoned a Sir Knight Companion and the golden gateway to the Eternal City has opened to welcome him to his home. He has completed his work in the ministering to the wants of the afflicted, in shedding light into darkened souls and in bringing joy into the places of misery and as his reward has received the plaudit "well done" from the Supreme Commander.

And whereas, The all-wise and merciful Father has called our beloved and respected Companion home, And whereas, He having been a true and faithful Companion of our Ancient and Illustrious Order, therefore be it

Resolved, That Valley Echo Commandery No. 370 Ancient and Illustrious Order Knights of Malta, of Charleroi, Pa., in testimony of her loss, tenders to the family of the deceased companion our sincere condolence in this deep affliction and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

Fossilized Blood.

Blood is an extremely perishable substance yet traces have been left and have been realized after lapses of several thousand years. Traces of blood six thousand years old have been found in mummies and blood-stains have been discovered upon bandages used in the surgery of ancient Egypt. In Siberia remains of it were recognized in frozen mammoths, whose flesh was fresh enough to be eaten by dogs after about 175,000 years of icy entombment. R. L. Moodie of the University of Illinois has found in the bone of a dinosaur some bodies which looked remarkably like blood, but his investigations have now satisfied him that they were really blood.

Progress Never Ceases.

The tree of life from primordial cells up to mammals shows intelligence ever widening up to man, declares a writer in the Minneapolis Journal. The human tribe and clan have foregains of their organization in the social life of bees and ants. All animals are somewhere on the road to progress. Some stop at one point and some at another. But the higher animals retaining plastic power are but a little behind the lowest type of man. The separating line seems to be that man in some stage of his career becomes self-conscious and reaches abstract conceptions. Many animals clearly display elements of conscious life that reach a more complete manifestation in man.

The emerald, the turquoise, the jade, sapphire and topaz all carry abundant lore of love, of sacred, and of healing description in their lovely rays and colors. The jade, associated with history from ancient days, is one of the oldest and most curious stones.

Tabby was giving her four babies a bath on the back porch, in true cat fashion. Elizabeth watched her for some time, then remarked to her mother: "It's a good thing the visiting nurse don't see how Tabby washes her babies."

"Fifth Monarchy Men."

The "Fifth Monarchy Men" were an extreme sect in England of the period of the Puritan revolution, largely found in the army which supported Cromwell, in the belief that his government was the beginning of the "Fifth Monarchy," during which the millennial reign of Christ on earth would take place. The previous four monarchies were the Assyrian, Persian, Grecian and Roman. But such fanatics could not but be in opposition to any established government, and Cromwell had some difficulties with them. In 1661 the revolt of Venner was largely supported by this sect.

Not Notified of Election.

A singular omission in the matter of legal formalities is the failure of the laws of the United States to provide for notifying a President-elect of his election. The result of the electoral vote is recorded in the journals of both houses of congress, but it is left for the President-elect to find out the result in whatever way he can, and to present himself for inauguration on the next succeeding fourth day of March.

The winter months give the farmer an opportunity to take stock of his last year's successes and failures, and to turn them to good account in laying plans for the coming season.

Facts in this way brought to light may mean the dropping of a crop proved to be raised at a loss, or eliminating livestock that have been living as "boarders" on his bounty.

SIM-CO SALVE is guaranteed to relieve cold in the head or on the lungs—almost immediately, because it is an antiseptic salve, that gives off refreshing antiseptic vapors for inhalation, thus reaching the innermost parts of the lungs at the same time that it is relieving the throat or chest by application. Just get a 30c jar of F. J. Johns and apply it at night, sleep well, with the air passages of the head opened, and get up feeling fresh and relieved in the morning; you have possibly warded off Spanish influenza or some other even more dangerous affection.

Millions of germs breed in these colds, so of course you need an antiseptic. It is reasonable to suppose you can't kill lagrippe germs and cure the disease quickly without an antiseptic, so why not try the new remedy SIM-CO SALVE and use it the SIM-CO way? It is a new relation as compared with the old cough syrups and internal remedies.

SIM-CO SALVE is so healing and efficient in killing germs that it is a mighty good ointment to have on hand or cuts, sores, bruises, burns, itching piles, eczema, tetter, rash or other similar affections. It is so soft and pliable that it is especially adapted for rubbing and soon dispels your agonizing aches from sore muscles, stiff neck, neuralgia, sprains, etc., and affords efficient relief for muscular rheumatism; it is more than a liniment, it is so very penetrating, refreshing and healing to the skin.

F. J. Johns who is the agent in Charleroi, is authorized to refund the purchase price if SIM-CO SALVE does not do all that is claimed for it; how can you expect a more generous offer than that?

SHOOT WON BY THE IRIQUOIS GUN CLUB

At the Tri-County live bird shoot, held at Sandy Plains on Thursday, January 20, Frank Zwick, Jack Batley and Fred Brady of the Iriquois Gun Club carried off first honors. Zwick and Batley scoring a perfect score in the 100 bird shoot, and Brady 99.

The Iriquois Gun Club has now defeated all known clubs of prominence and are preparing to enter the State tournament at Philadelphia.

In honor of the Club's third successful year the shooters were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Mattigan of Millboro, where an elaborate banquet awaited them. The musical program, arranged by Mrs. Mattigan, was the feature of the evening. Fred Brady scored his second success of the day in his new song, "The Delinquent Tax Collector."

Among the speakers announced by Toastmaster W. P. Gaur were District Attorney Erwin Cummins, Assistant District Attorney Warren Ruchinal, S. L. Woodward, R. H. Rush, Justice Whitehead and Thos. Mattigan.

TAX COLLECTORS CLOSING ACCOUNTS

Delinquent tax collectors of the various districts of the county are preparing to close their accounts and make report to the proper officials on or before February 1. Liens will be entered against all properties upon which tax has not been paid at that time, provided there is not sufficient personal property found upon the premises to make the amount of the tax at forced sale. In the latter case it is the duty of the collector to seize and sell the personal property to amount of the tax levied. The collectors have been reporting their collections each month and indications are that there will be comparatively little unpaid property tax when final settlement is made.

FRAUD IS CHARGED IN A COAL DEAL

T. D. Williamson has filed a suit in equity against George W. Dawson in which he asks to be declared a trustee in a mortgage involved in the transfer of a tract of coal land and seeks to have the court determine his interest in the mortgage. The defendant is charged with practicing deceit and fraud on the plaintiff.

It is set forth in the bill that the plaintiff and defendant engaged in a joint venture in the purchase of coal lands underlying a tract known as "Ferry Lot or Landing" in Fayette county, containing 14 acres and 51 perches. The consideration was $20,000 each contributing one-half.

On February 17, 1920, the plaintiff avers the defendant informed him he had been unable to find a purchaser for the tract and agreed to buy the plaintiff's half interest for $10,000. The plaintiff says that at the time he made inquiry of the defendant whether or not he had sold the coal and was informed by the defendant that he had not. It is averred the defendant filed a written stipulation to the effect that the coal had not been sold.

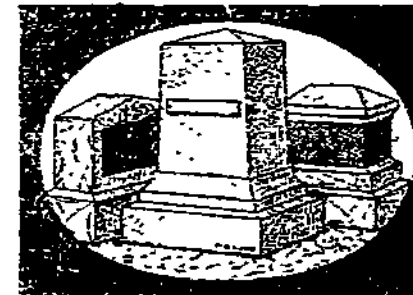

Notwithstanding this it is charged the defendant had for three months prior been in consultation with Robert L. James, regarding the sale of the coal and that James had made an offer of $36,000 for the same.

After the conveyance of the plaintiff's half interest to the defendant, it is averred, the deal was closed with James for $36,000. Of this amount $5,000 was paid and a mortgage given for $31,000. It is this mortgage that is involved, the defendant being charged with fraud and deceit in misrepresenting to the plaintiff that he had no purchaser for the coal.
